Wedding of John J. Somers and Miss Ellen M. Hourigan solemnized—Funeral of William Taylor—Personal Notes.

Tuesday morning in the assembly hall of the Greenville grammar school Principal C. H. Hobson gave the pupils an instructive talk on Columbus, who 417 years ago discovered this continent. In the afternoon there was no school.

A whole holiday was enjoyed by the pupils of St. Mary's parochial school.

WEDDING.

Somers—Hourigan.
Tuesday morning saw an unusually pretty wedding at St. Mary's church, when at 8 o'clock John Joseph Somers, son of Mr. Margaret C. Somers of this city and Miss Ellen Mary Hourigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hourigan, of Greenville, were united in marriage by Rev. James J. Smith. The impressive ceremony was attended by many relatives and friends.

Miss Anne Maria, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, while the best man was a nephew of the groom, James Seamon of Jersey City. The bride wore a gown of white satin, with white and gold embroidery, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, Mrs. J. Hourigan, 108 Central avenue. The bride and groom were accompanied by George Hourigan, a brother of the bride. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherwood of Dallas, Tex.; Miss Louise Brewer of Sag Harbor; Mrs. Erastus Lawton of Garden City, L. I.; Mrs. George A. Elmerman of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.; Miss Alice Clark of New York City; Miss Alice Murray of Williamsburg; and Miss Alice Hyman of New London.

Y. Mr. and Mrs. Somers left at 11 o'clock by automobile for Hartford, whence they will visit New York, Washington, New England, and finally after several weeks' trip reach their home in Dallas, Tex. The bride wore a blue tulle and traveling gown. The bride has passed all of her life in Norwich, where she is very well known, and where her acquaintance and position has made her deservedly popular. She is a graduate of Mt. St. Joseph's Seminary of Hartford and has the highest of a host of friends in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Somers in their married life.

Number at the Armory Shows the Power of Evangelist
Stough to Attract and Convince—Cottage Prayer
Meetings at Nine O'clock.

The message of Dr. Henry W. Stough in the union evangelistic service at the armory on Tuesday evening was the need of a revival and especially the need of a converted church. We are coming upon a perilous time in our national life which can only be safely passed through by a revival of the old-fashioned piety of our fathers, and the need of a converted church. We are coming upon a perilous time in our national life which can only be safely passed through by a revival of the old-fashioned piety of our fathers, and the need of a converted church.

Afternoon Meeting.
The first of the afternoon meetings in the union evangelistic campaign was held Tuesday at 3 o'clock at the Central Baptist church, conducted by the evangelist, Dr. Stough, with his associate, H. Lansing Somers, who led the singing, and Henry Herring, the baritone soloist, who was heard in the selection, "Come Ye Truly Disciples." Prayer at the opening of the meeting was offered by Rev. L. L. West, D. D., of the Second Congregational church.

The regular meeting opened with the singing of "There is a Fountain Filled With Blood." Dr. Stough spoke of the added duties and responsibilities of the church in this time of crisis. He emphasized the notice of the cottage meetings to be held at the various homes at 9 o'clock each morning and the meeting at 3 o'clock at the Central Baptist church. The headquarters of the executive committee are in the room over the Otis library, where Dr. Stough may be seen personally or appointment made to see him.

More Cottage Meetings.
Rev. P. C. Wright, chairman of the cottage prayer meeting committee, read the list of places where these will be held this morning, including all those given yesterday and the following new ones: Mrs. William Geer, 274 Washington street; Mrs. Fitch Allen, Town street; Mrs. H. L. Verrington, 428 Washington street; Mrs. Charles R. Gallup, Cliff street.

A selection by the chorus was given while the collection was taken and followed by the reading of the Lord's Prayer. One thing I of the Lord's Prayer. A short prayer by Dr. Stough preceded his address, taken from Habakkuk 2:3, "For the word shall not return void, but shall accomplish that which he purposed, and shall prosper in all that he desireth." Dr. Stough said that he was a man of the Holy Spirit. This meant consecration, for he couldn't be full of the Holy Spirit, and also full of the Holy Spirit, and also a man filled with wisdom, the tact and trained attitude toward men which made him a worker. The influence for Christ. Would that might cultivate this and we can if we will. It is just a matter of personal decision, and we must obtain the ability to say the word and do the thing which shall shape and mould lives and be soul-winners. Would that the Christians of Norwich might get the spirit of Philip.

Election Expenses.
In his report to the town clerk, Charles W. Pearson, treasurer of the Third district, states that he received $13 and spent it as follows: Teams $12, and $1 to the assistants, $17, ticket distributors $14.

Shot Six Squirrels.
Fred Rouleau returned Tuesday morning with a bag of six nice squirrels shot in the Preston City woods against those for whom Christ died. He intended to make it a coon hunting trip, when he drove out to Mr. Brand's place and saw a squirrel. He gave this up and went after the squirrels instead. Mr. Brand was the guide to the feeding place of the squirrels and Mr. Rouleau did the rest.

Nervous Dyspepsia And Neurasthenia
Weakness of the Nervous System Often Dependent Upon Long-continued Indigestion.

Neurasthenia, also known as "nervous exhaustion," "nervous debility," and "nervous prostration," is a disease, which in these modern strenuous times is becoming more and more prevalent. It is a condition in which there is more or less marked and persistent loss of energy, together with considerable irritability.

Persons who suffer from this trouble are easily excited and irritated; cannot do as much work as formerly, and in attempting mental effort quickly become confused, and are unable to concentrate the attention.

They also complain of insomnia, nervous indigestion, depression of spirits, and palpitation of the heart.

There is a general muscular weakness, blurring of eyesight, headache and vertigo, speech floating before the eyes, and a general restlessness. The ability to sustain prolonged intellectual effort is interfered with, and the mind imagines he is losing his memory.

Neurasthenia continually watch for new symptoms, unconsciously exaggerate the old ones, and thus make it more important to them. Causeless fear is often suffered from; a dread of some impending danger; nervousness, and dark foreboding and hysteria. Sleep is not refreshing and the person feels much more tired in the morning than when he goes to bed.

But by far the most prominent manifestation of Neurasthenia is Nervous Dyspepsia. In nearly every case, this disturbance of the stomach dominates the complaint. Cause and effect may be transposed, and dyspepsia may be the result of Neurasthenia, but often indigestion is the original cause of the nervous condition. The nerves are so much affected by the stomach, that it does not digest the food properly, and as the nerves are dependent upon the food which the blood absorbs from the stomach for their sustenance, any deprivation thereof is sure to cause nerve weakness.

The use of "nervine tonics" in this condition is a mistake. They merely stimulate, but do not rebuild nerve tissue. Completely digested food is the only tonic, and builds up and strengthens; and in the treatment of nervous exhaustion, one should first cure the nervous dyspepsia, which is usually the cause of the trouble.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS in doses of one or two after each meal, or whenever needed, and long trains of nervous symptoms will be cured along with the nervous dyspepsia.

This celebrated remedy is without a peer in the treatment of nervous indigestion and in fact, indigestion of any kind. They digest all the food with great thoroughness, and facilitate its absorption by the blood, which carries it to the weakened, diseased nerves and builds them up, so that every system of Nervous Exhaustion is gotten rid of.
